- II. UC Davis Managerial Economics Presentation with Jeffrey Williams and James A Chalfant
  - A. 4 emphases within the major: Business economics, international business economics, natural resources and environmental econ, and agribusiness economics.
    1. Allowed to take 8 courses from any of these emphases
  - B. Associates Degree for Transfer
    1. Good program for providing guidance
    2. Maximize the probability of success→ Transfers enter in as juniors
    3. Take all the classes you can before you transfer because UCs have a higher tuition bill
  - C. Managerial economics is becoming a selective major, however, this means that they just want students to be prepared before they come. In other words, don't wait to take calculus and accounting classes until you get there.
  - D. Master's degree information
  - E. The floor was opened up to a Q&A
